Meet your TCM Representative!

We'd like to put a face to the voice of your TCM representative. At TCM we believe one of the most valuable points in our Customer Charter is providing you with a dedicated Account Manager. Someone who will get to know your production requirements intimately and anticipate your needs, send order updates pro-actively and provide fully researched quotes. Your one point of contact that can answer all your questions – well the ones about contract manufacturing anyway!

So we'd like to present our office based sales and admin staff with a little personal background as well!

Remember, in addition to our planned visits, we can also set-up Skype meetings – whether it's one on one or for a group. Call or email me to work out a time.

Regards,
Nathan Case
